Singular Circumstance. On last Saturday evening, a stranger tolerally well dressed, provided himself with a lodging place, in a barn be longing to Mr. H. ADGATE, of this place When Mr. ADGATE entered the barn, the stranger informed him that he liked his lodging very well, but that the diet was scanty, whereupon Mr. ADGATE brought him some entables. In the night the fellow stole Mr. A.'s horse, rode him to Bristol, took fim to the hotel, told the landlord that it was a stolen horse, that he had stolen it, and wished the landlord to take care of his horse and himself, telling him that some body would be after the torse and would pay the charges on the horse, but whether he would get any pay for his breakfast, was doubtful. The landlord advised h m to make tracks, but the fellow insisted that he understood his business. According to his expectation, he was followed, arrested and brought to this place. Being inquired of by D. D. Belder. Esq., the Prosecuting Attorney, as to his motive for such conduct, he replied, that he had been told that the Ohio Penitentiary was a comfortable place to live in, that the boarding was good, and as he wanted to learn a trade, he had travelled a long distance on foot, and had stolen the horse for no other purpose than to get into the penitentiary, for three years. When Mr. BELDEN asked what he would do, if representations of the facts were

The sale of the personal property holonging to the estate of Eliakim Hall, deceased, of this township, which takes place on Saturday next, will be one of the largest which has been made in this neighborhood. We are informed by HARMON AUSTIN, Esq., (the administrator,) that the amount of personal assetts were some two thousand seven hundred dollars, as appraised. The quality of the horses and caule are very sun rior, and that of he other stock is as good as the average. The quantity of corn and hay is large, and also of excellent quality. Judging from the appraisal (made by men, who certainly are well qualified to know the value of such articles.) we should suppose that the whole property was much better than ordinary. It is too generally the care at public sales, that poor articles sell above their value, while good ones are knocked off at price much be ow. We hope that in this instance, a sufficient number of substantial bidders will be present, to make fair competition.

Profitable Farming.

NEWTON, Nov. 18th, 1855. Eds. Chronicle : - You, in the Chronicle of the 15th inst., expressed a wish to know if any of the farmers of Trumbull county can make a more profitable exhibition of farming, than the one given by Harmon Austin. I think I can; but will give you the lacts, and leave you to judge for yourselves. Last season I planted 61 acres of land to corn, and harvested from the same 626 bushels of ears of corn, which, at a fair estimate, would have sold for - - $281,00 The fodder from the same ground I could have sold for - - - 60 00 Total value of crop. - $341,00 Which gives me an average, per acre, of $52,46. Can any man in the county

Business in Old Trumbull was in its infancy, and your humble acryand was the FIRST person in that enterprise in Warren. Starting with a deternalmation to self-cheap and deal fairly, he hoped to mild up a trade that would stendily increase and bring to his counter, on the return of each year, the faces of those who were his patrons at the first. HE HAS NOT BEEN BISAPPOINTED. A progress almost unparalled in the history of track, has marked the success of this establishment. As many Prochastance is issued to enform all who are in want
